

Dear Chan I Promised to,
and ought to have written you before this, a thorough statement (and a true one) of all I know, and what I think, of Oregon as a Farming Country and future home, but as it is quite an undertaking, and as I wished to see one winter here before I done so. I have delayed it - You probably have been looking for that promised letter, before answering my last, if you have not already answered it I hope you will right away, notwithstanding my failure to keep my promise If your mind is fully made up one way or the other about coming out here. let me

Know what your decision is - If you are awaiting further information about the Country before deciding lets know - any way tell me how my proposition strikes you, If you are sure my last letter (Judging by the writing) was directed by me all right, If you are not sure send me some of the envelop as contains the address, in your answer to the I will explain some other time February has been a very cold month so far for Oregon the coldest morning was Eight
from 8° to 10° 11° 13° 21° 25° 30° etc the days have been warmer of course. It is said to be the coldest winter known for a long time Winter Wheat is probably killed for the first time in 30 years Pa
